Quarterly News - June 2019

A model for growth.

As enterprises seek to become more agile to keep pace with cloud-native disruptors and scale for growth, Axway now offers alternatives to traditional license models. You can use licenses or embrace a subscription or usage-based model.

This shifts expenses for solutions to your company's operating budget and allows for more opportunities to be competitive to add new services based on AMPLIFY. This flexibility will help you achieve digital transformation at your own pace.
